Dear Dr. Nassar,

Thank you for your help as a referee for the Physical Review journals and Reviews of Modern Physics. We understand that your time is valuable and have therefore made your record available via our referee server (<https://referees.aps.org/>) so that you can make changes quickly and easily at any time.

We recognize that your availability to review manuscripts may fluctuate throughout the year and suggest that you visit this site whenever necessary to update your relevant information. Please be reminded that to access our referee server you will need to have an active APS Journal account. For more information and to create an account please go to <https://publish.aps.org/signup>.

Providing us with up to date and accurate information helps the refereeing process run smoothly and ensures that we only ask you to review appropriate material, when you are able to, and that we do not contact you unnecessarily.

Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely,

Gene Sprouse
Editor in Chief
